Youth is Flexible

Why Flexible Cantilever Shoes Make You Feel Younger

The easy flexibility and unconscious grace that make youth so charming are not altogether a question of age. The older woman may have them too.

Cantilever Shoes induce the spontaneity of thought and action that comes from mental and bodily poise, from glowing health and from feet that are strong, supple and that do not easily fatigue—feet that have the spring of youth in them. This is why so many women have said that they feel younger by wearing Cantilevers.

Uncomfortable feet are a drag on the spirits. The feeling of aliveness that tingles to your fingertips and makes you tackle the problems of life with enthusiasm cannot be yours if your feet are uncomfortable.

In comfortable Cantilevers you forget your feet. The snug-fitting, flexible arch gives the foot support and allows the muscles to exercise and strengthen so that they can hold the arched bones of the foot in place. The natural lines of Cantilevers give the whole foot a feeling of unrestrained freedom that will reflect itself in every move you make. You will soon understand why ordinary shoes with their rigid arches and unnatural lines cause many a woman to feel older than she should.

Everywhere you go, you will find that well dressed women are wearing Cantilever Shoes. They like the modish rounded toe and the medium or low walking heel that have always characterized these shoes, but above all they enjoy the feeling of youthful energy and increased endurance that these shoes have supplied.

Men, too, are wearing Cantilevers and the demand for the men's last is constantly increasing. Every pair of Cantilevers is trademarked so that you can make sure of getting the genuine Cantilever. They are sold by only one store in each town except in New York City. There is a Cantilever dealer near you. If you cannot find one in the list at the left of this advertisement write the manufacturers, Morse & Burt Co., 11 Carlton Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., for the name and address of your nearest dealer and a booklet which tells about feet and shoes in an interesting way.

Thanksgiving of Turks for the Victories in Asia Minor

Sultan of Turkey (central figure), with members of his suite and dignitaries of the empire, giving thanks to Allah for the overwhelming victory of the Turkish Nationalists over the Greeks in Asia Minor. While their thanksgiving was in part sincere, the victories were probably viewed not without trepidation by the Sultan and his Court, as it foreshadowed the possible abdication of the former. At present the great bulk of the Turkish population is in sympathy with Mustapha Kemal, who for some time past has maintained a Government of his own and defied the authority of the Sultan. The Government of Angora has been virile and energetic, while that of Constantinople has been nerveless and supine. (P. & A. Photos.)

Immense gathering of Turks on the outskirts of Constantinople, some praying in thanksgiving while others are listening to orators at the field tent who are lauding the Kemalist army. Frenzied enthusiasm gripped the Mohammedan population of Asia Minor and European Turkey at the news of Kemal's victory over the Greeks, which aroused once more the hope of an Ottoman Empire. The belief among the people is now widespread that they will regain the position in Europe held by them before they entered the World War on the side of the Central Powers. (Underwood & Underwood.)

"NEATH CLOUDED SKIES"

One of the landscapes by Ben Foster that has a distinctive charm attaching to that artist's work. The drawing of rocks and trees is marked by its fidelity to nature and the atmospheric effects admirably justify the title of the painting.

"EAST WIND"

Painting by Allen Tucker. In the scudding clouds and bending trees he has caught the changing aspects of earth and sky with remarkable accuracy.

"LADY AT HER TOILET"

Sculptured by Jeanne Poupelet, a great French sculptress, examples of whose work have been acquired by the chief museums in Europe, and whose fame and productions have begun to reach America. Huge boa constrictors worn around the neck of the negro trainer at an English circus. Familiarity on the part of the trainer has bred contempt for the monster reptiles who could crush out his life in a moment.
